The Virginia City Post of June 23, furnishes the following:

BLACKFOOT CITY MATTERS

A letter from Blackfoot City of June 16th, says Blackfoot, after emerging from a long, tedious winter, has put on its business dress, and now all is life, bustle and activity. New buildings are springing up all over town; large stocks of goods are arriving almost daily, and on every side can be seen evidences of prosperity. Some public spirited individuals have commenced laying down water pipes through the street, with hydrants at convenient distances. There are twenty one dry goods and grocery stores, twelve bars and saloons, and all the other necessary auxiliaries of a large mining camp, to be found here. Thousands of persons are coming and going—some prospecting with pick, pan and shovel, and some with their money, and a very busy season is looked for by the merchants. Carpenter's Bar, which heretofore has been considered a part of Blackfoot, has set up for itself, and is now quite a village, having eleven rum mills, several large stocks of goods, boarding houses, butcher shops, blacksmith shops and lodging houses.

The Bar, which is next to McClellan in richness, but second to none in extent, is now yielding its thousands daily, and by day and night, strings of men can be seen shoveling the rich auriferous soil into sluice boxes. Prairie Gulch and Eureka, both tributaries of Carpenter, are also rich, and many companies are at work on them, but owing to the reticence of the miners generally it is difficult to get any correct estimate of what amount of dust is being taken out.

Rumors of Indian troubles are rife in town, one man has been killed, and some stock driven off near McClellan Gulch. Armed parties of miners are in pursuit of the red rascals, and it is hoped that they may be successful in their search.

FROM THE HELENA MINES

A letter from Helena, June 21st, says:

Confederate Gulch having a very deep bed rock, is totally unworked, so far as gulch claims are concerned, although, during our stay, prospects of one dollar to the pan were obtained upon the discovery claim. Its tributary gulches, Cement, Montana, Greenhorn, Boulder, Baker, etc, are more or less worked, but its great wealth lies in its bars, especially those of Montana and Last Chance, just above the city. In the latter there are five claims, paying from wages to thirty dollars per day to the hand, and a dollar and eighty cent prospect was found upon a claim just being opened while we were there. Montana Bar contains eight claims, numbered continuously with the gulch claims, and is worked hydraulically, by five companies. The claim of Smith & Burdell at No 9, recently cleaned up $4,000 for a ten hours run. At Campbell & Co.'s on No. 13, $10,000 have been recently taken out in one week; and Metcalf & Judson on No 16, are working out $1,000 per day with thirteen men. We are requested to correct a recent statement that $18,000 were taken out of this claim in seven days' run. The truth is sufficiently encouraging without resort to exaggeration. This claim of Metcalf & Judson in many places prospects $650 to the square foot, measured on the bed rock. When it is known that the claim embraces an area of forty thousand square feet, the value of this claim may be imagined. On this Montana bar, which old Californians, who are working it assert, is the richest placer mine in the world. Hydraulic mining is very extensively carried on, banks of earth twenty and thirty feet in height are easily washed away, and the golden particles contained therein allowed to lodge in the crevices of the bed rock, and flumes, and in the riffles of the sluices.

On the afternoon of the 17th and 18th insts., the wind blew a hurricane. On the former day the upper portion of the fronts of two buildings on Bridge street, at the head of Main, were blown down. One of them, in falling, struck Billy Hodge and broke both bones of his right leg just above the ankle, and severely injured his back. There was no spinal injury as was at first feared, and he will doubtless recover.

Considerable rivalry exists in the stage business between Virginia City and Helena, and low fares and fast time are the consequence. On the 18th inst., Oliver's coach came in from the Milk Rancho in five hours and a quarter. Twelve and a half miles an hour is pretty good staging for the mountains.

The following boats have arrived at Benton. The Iron City, Capt. Bissel, on the 9th, 270 tons freight, and 19 passengers, Peter Balen, Capt Williams, on the 11th, 374 tons of freight, 25 passengers, Amelia Poe, on the 11th, 150 tons freight, 25, Only Chance, Capt. Jones, on the 13th, 200 tons freight, 15 passengers, Miner, Capt. Smith, on the 13th, 200 tons freight, 25 passengers, Favorite, Capt Hutchinson, on the 14th, 100 tons freight, 40 passengers, Tacony, on the 14th, no passengers, Goldfinch, on the 15th, heavy freight, 23 passengers. The Peter Balen is said to be a very fine boat, and capable of carrying much more freight than it really had. Captain Williams was about to try to run her up to the Falls, taking with him a select company. The Miner made the trip from St Louis in fifty-three days, bringing up her owners, Messrs. Hubbell, Smith & Pease of the North Western Fur Company, to take possession of Fort Benton. On the 15th seven boats were lying at Benton. Freight to Helena, 3½ to 4 cts. A shocking affair occurred at Fort Campbell, just above Fort Benton, on on the 14th, Mrs McNight, a poor woman, shot herself through the head with a dragoon pistol, in the presence of her children.

At Diamond City, on the afternoon of the 19th, Captain Greene shot a Mr Sheehan for jumping his claim, mortally wounding him.

BUSINESS AT VIRGINIA CITY

The receipts of one merchant footed up $1,070, for the day, and several others had taken in gold by the pound, in their establishments. The trade is also, as a general rule, improving daily, and the first arrival of machinery for the mills will set everything in lively motion. We are quite satisfied with our prospects, present and future. The trade of our town has been limited for some time past, but it was neither because there was nobody to buy nor because there was no money to buy with, but because the dealers had scarcely anything to sell, beyond prime necessaries and some of them not very prime. Now that stocks are beginning to arrive here per Haw-we-gee express from Fort Benton and across the plains, business will assume a much livelier aspect. In dry goods especially, trade has been dull.

HIGH WATER

We learn by accounts from the valleys, that the rivers have once more swollen to such an extent as to render fording dangerous, if not impracticable, at many of the usual crossings. The Madison was stated to be eighteen inches higher, on last Wednesday than it had been previously, and the Stinkingwater was likewise very high. This state of affairs always makes a great difference to our merchants, by keeping some of the best customers out of town.

MAIL CONTRACTS

There have been many changes and transfers of mail contracts between the various applicants to the Department at Washington. As it stands now, A J Oliver & Co have a contract, which we have seen for mail service from this city to Missoula Mills, Hellgate. The running time allowed is six days. The route will be by Jefferson Bridge and Boulder valley to Helena, thence to Blackfoot, and by Deer Lodge and Gold creek to Hellgate. It is understood that the mail route by way of Hot Springs is abandoned, and also that from Fort Bridger via Soda Springs to Hellgate, which was decidedly a back door line. We are not likely to complain of want of traveling facilities in this Territory.

HYDRAULIC MINING.

Just as quickly as James McEvily, who must have been born under the sign of Aquarius or the water bearer, is able to complete his ditch, the hydraulic claims are taken up, and the ground sluicers go in for a general wash. There are now about twenty five substantial companies washing gold out of the side hills and bars on the south side of Alder gulch, opposite the city, and quite a handsome fortune is weekly carried off for division among the partners, and, evidently, a large share of the money finds its way into general circulation.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

We learn that —— Flannagan, of the firm of Parsons & Flannagan, at Jefferson Bridge, has been appointed Postmaster for that place, but, as he has removed, we presume that Mr Parsons will take his place, at any rate pro tem. Geo A. Percy is appointed for cottonwood, (Deer Lodge City) Richard Connolly for Gold Creek, Charles Shaft for Missoula Mills, and J H Crounse for Blackfoot City.

J Allen Hosmer, the son of our Chief Justice, has been appointed Clerk of the First Judicial District.

Reuben Foster, of the Mosler lode, has gone to Benton to inspect the machinery for his mill at Summit. Rumor announces that it is badly damaged by water. We hope the statements are exaggerated, for we are informed that a finer mill never left St. Louis.

The demand for labor in Alder Gulch continues not only unabated, but constantly increasing. The wages range from $6 per day upwards. There is employment for several hundreds of men in this neighborhood.

The little mill belonging to Adams, McKinstry & Co., at Park City, is doing a good business crushing rock that pays from $30 to $35 per ton. It is the most perfect piece of machinery in the Territory, and is driven night and day.

The bar diggings in Pipestone district are paying eight to ten dollars per hand, where opened. The companies now engaged in fluming the creek are in high spirits, and think they will be able to give a good report by the fourth of July.

Martin, the Wizard, and the Hong minstrel troupe are performing successfully at Virginia City.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

From the Vancouver Register of the 14th

THE VANCOUVER MINE

Every test of the rock from any of the ledges thus far has disclosed the presence of gold and silver and that too in paying quantities. Work is progressing on several of the ledges. An arrastra is running on the McConnell ledge, the Rising Sun and Morning Star Company is pushing forward its work, the Columbia ledge is being sunk upon and Mr S D. Maxon is manifesting commendable enterprise in opening another ledge which is thought to be rich. We have repeatedly said we would not be accessory to raising an unfounded excitement, and shall only state facts as they are made known. We believe in the Vancouver mines. They are to-day more promising than were many of the California quartz ledges, when discovered, which are now paying immensely.

TOWN IMPROVEMENTS.

We notice that the Quartermaster is erecting two large and splendid barns and stables on the Government grounds near the Catholic Church. They are very fine and substantial buildings. Mr. C. B Montague is also erecting a fine house on Main street, which will be an ornament to that part of the city. Immediately opposite Mr Montague the Methodist society are projecting the erection of a nice parsonage this fall. Mr. Schofield's new store is nearly completed, and is certainly a good and handsome building. Other gentlemen are planning improvements, which we shall be glad to see carried forward.

THE CROPS.

The crops throughout the county are more promising than we have ever known before. The season has been remarkably favorable for the land on the plains, and we observe that the fields of wheat, oats, and timothy are excellent.

WHAT OUR REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS RECEIVE FOR MILEAGE.—The Speaker of the House of Representatives, on the 9th of June, presented a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, transmitting a statement of the amount paid for salary and mileage to the members of the 38th Congress, which was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The mileage paid to Senators was $124,103, and the salary $299,728, total, $423,836. The mileage paid to members of the House was $315,024, and the salary $114,910; total, $1,464,160. Senator Conness received for mileage $11,124, and Senator McDougall $10,964. Senator Harding and Nesmith of Oregon, received for mileage $11,-916 each; Senators Nye and Stewart of Nevada received for mileage $5,622 each; but this was only for one session, being at the rate of $11,244 for the Congress. The Massachusetts Senators received for mileage $739 each. The smallest sum received for mileage was Senator Johnson of Maryland, $87 20, of the California members Mr Cole received for mileage $10,385, Mr. Higby $10,548, and Mr. Shannon $105,92; the Oregon member, Mr. McBride, received for mileage $12,-521, Mr Cole, the delegate from Washington Territory, received $12,089 and Mr. Wallace, the delegate from Idaho, $12,384. The smallest sum received for mileage was $64, by Henry Winter Davis.

A Washington special to the Cincinnati Gazette tells this story:

An intimate friend called upon Mr. Seward to go in his company to be presented to Mr. Lincoln. As they were entering the grounds of the White House, this friend said, "Mr. Seward it grieves me exceedingly to be going with you to see the President, instead of going to see you as President." To this, Mr. Seward, stopping short, and turning full upon him, replied with great bitterness in his tone, "That, sir was the doings of the Republican party, and for that I will have my revenge."

He has been taking it for five years, and is taking it now.

THE AMENDMENT.—A Philadelphia dispatch of June 14th says:

"After the Senate had adopted the constitutional amendment, just concurred in by the House of Representatives, Governor Curtin addressed a circular letter to the Governors of all the loyal States, suggesting the propriety of uniform action in calling together their Legislatures for the ratification of that amendment. It is now understood that such uniform action will be had, and that before the adjournment of Congress a ratification of the amendment will be made."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

MONDAY MORNING JULY 16 1866

Struck their Colors

N[illegible] any m other ag[illegible] it was said by President J[illegible] n's flat creed that hereafter there was [illegible] Republican or Democratic party as formerly [illegible] the future organization [illegible] political parties [illegible] dictated by the pres[illegible] of Magistrate and that their destinies were entirely in his hands. Romarks like these were frequent wh[illegible] le the late efforts to destroy the unity of the party of the Union were in progress but the result has anything but justified the anticipations of those who labored for such a result. In fact it may reasonably be supposed that the authors of the scheme to destroy old parties and create new ones are sensible of their failure. President Johnson is a politician of some experience and courage and determination yet he has ascertained that his power falls short of his purpose. Many of those who seconded his efforts are persons who on account of the hopeless ruin of their [illegible] party were ready to work with the energy of desperation to form a new organization which by accessions from all sides should be built up into a party which could carry the Northern States against the tried men of the Union. The combination to form a new party was one of tremendous power. It failed because the Union ranks were too compact and powerful to be moved by its assaults. As the army was taught in the days of the war that there must be no straggling so the Union party had been taught a like lesson. The attempt to disrupt it though attended with much noise and many formidable demonstrations made very little actual impression upon it. The much vaunted "Johnson party" consists of Copperheads officered in part by their own leaders and in part by a few uncertain politicians who have hitherto acted with the Union party but who believing that the Johnson movement would be a success went along as its champions and are now too far gone to return. The Unionists who have followed Johnson, are men who have an especial admiration for a majority party and will never, for a long period remain unconnected with one.

But they who only a little time ago believed that the President's will was omnipotent to disband old and create new parties now admit their mistake. The forecasting New York Herald sees it. That paper, hitherto one of the President's most zealous supporters, not only confesses that he has failed but predicts that the Union party will carry the elections this fall as heretofore. After reciting the points of the reconstruction amendment, the Herald says

> This is we say a strong platform upon which to go before the people of the Northern States. There is nothing in it obnoxious to public opinion in the way of negro suffrage while the alternative suggested will be satisfactory to the North. There are no vindictive penalties here against rebels and traitors, but conditional exclusions which cannot be resisted successfully before the people who put down the rebellion. The same may be said of the proposition touching the national debt the debts of the rebellion and the four millions of liberated Southern slaves. Upon this platform the republican party act on to this Congress can carry our approaching Northern State elections as they did last year * * * It is in compromise platform again at which Johnson republicans can not even quarrel with the radicals before the people although the hatred of the radicals against Johnson may continue as intense as on the eve of the late Connecticut election

In another article, the Herald undertakes to mark out a programme for President Johnson which will save him in this emergency. We quote again

> The development of a bold and decisive foreign policy, beginning with England is now his only chance. A do nothing neutrality policy will give him no strength. A negative administration is always a failure, and especially where a positive settlement with England is demanded by an overwhelming public opinion

The magnificent attempt to create a new party has accomplished only one result. The few Unionists who entered into the scheme have suddenly awoke to the consciousness that they are out of the Union party, and have nowhere else to go. Those of them who are holding office will be sent into private life by the party they have betrayed and the country will have done with them.

POLK COUNTY.—On the 20th day of August, the electors of Polk county are to choose a successor to Senator Frazer, late deceased. Mr Frazer was chosen two years, when the entire Union ticket succeeded. The last election showed the county to be very close, but since the return of Capt. Lafollett's volunteers, of whom, perhaps forty are voters in that county, there can be no doubt of the election of a sound Union man to fill the vacant seat. Beside this reinforcement of voters to the Union party, the Union majority in August will be doubly assured by the departure of quite a number of sheep and cattle herders who were hired early last spring to go into Polk from Marion for the express purpose of becoming residents and voters at the June election. The original swindle of hiring men from Portland to vote in Polk without a residence, proved so bad an investment in 1864, that the Copperhead managers this year adopted the safer plan of hiring loose men early in the season, so as to give them time to become residents, and thus to avoid the bald appearance of fraud. Not foreseeing the need they would so soon have for these honest and sturdy Democrats the managers have allowed a good many of them to depart—used and no longer wanted.

All that the Union men of Polk have to do is to nominate a good man and then march in solid phalanx through the campaign to the polls on the 20th of August to secure a triumphant victory. The balance of the State will look confidently for such action by the Union men of that county and we make no scruple of saying beforehand, that the State will not be disappointed.

THE SOLDIERS STAND BY CONGRESS.—A Convention of soldiers, numbering about 600 delegates and representing 250,000 soldiers, assembled at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, June 5th. The following is one of the resolutions passed:

> Resolved, That the loyal majority in Congress deserve our gratitude, that radical evils require radical remedies and that the Nation should take no step backward in its march to the grand destiny that surely awaits unfaltering persistent adherence to the cause of equal freedom

The speeches during the day were of the same character, and sustained the efforts of Congress to protect loyal men without distinction of race or color. A permanent organization was effected, entitled the "National Union Boys in Blue."

PERSONAL.—Rev H K. Hines, editor of the Vancouver Register announces in the issue of the 14th that his connection with the editorial charge of that paper is "practically closed." For the remaining eight weeks of the current volume he will contribute as a correspondent. During Mr Hines connection with the Register it has been a sterling Union advocate and a live guardian and promoter of the local interests of its section. There are few of the editorial fraternity within our acquaintance who possess more of the peculiar tact essential for success in newspaper publishing and none for whom we could feel more regret at his taking leave.

We observe that several of the journals of this State are publishing a statement to the effect that Col Kelly the Democratic candidate for Governor in the late election has notified Gov Woods of his intention to contest. We saw Gov Woods the day he took his departure for San Francisco and he informed us that he had received no such notice from Col Kelly. The story as now afloat originated we believe with O Meara which is saying all that need be said in regard to it.

A correspondent of the Sacramento Union writing from Salem, says the result of the late election in this State will be the election of a true Unionist to the United States Senate, "thus snipping our present Senator Nesmith one of the tail feathers of Moses." Precisely.

On the 13th the following was received:

"To H Stebbins San Francisco. [illegible] telegram [illegible] is received. The immediate necessities of the sufferers have been relieved but the same are destitute of [illegible] need funds to erect cheap tenements and to provide [illegible]. (Signed) A J STEVENS, Mayor

The committee [illegible] think that [illegible] really urgent and that it ought not to pass unnoticed. They will accordingly call a preliminary meeting at the earliest hour to make such arrangements as may be deemed proper.

A J Perkins was tried in the Police Court for printing an obscene photograph. The Jury found that the picture was not obscene and acquitted the defendant.

The Occidental Insurance Company filed a certificate with the County Clerk to-day to the effect that their capital stock of $300 000 had been paid.

The monitor Camanche came down from Mare Island last evening and is now anchored off South Beach.

It has been extensively rumored for some weeks past that a great breach of promise case was on the tapis which unless settled before being brought before the Courts would create a great sensation when brought to trial. To day the matter was made public by Mary [illegible] Schell filing a complaint in the Fourth District Court through John L Love, her attorney, demanding from Gen H M Naglee the sum of $100 000 damages for an alleged breach of promise which is claimed to have been made on or about the 1st day of June 1859. The plaintiff avers that defendant then promised to marry her and has reiterated this intention of doing so at various times in consequence of which she has remained [illegible] and that at all times since then been ready and willing to marry the defendant but that the defendant refused to comply with his agreement and that on the 20th day of June, 1865 he married another lady in this city.

It is rumored that the plaintiff will introduce in evidence over one hundred letters written by the defendant the contents of which are calculated to furnish food for scandal and in which many of the most prominent men in the country are named and their private characters and official acts commented upon in the bitterest spirit. Gen Naglee's private opinions of the leading generals in the army are said to be given as well as of the Administration of Lincoln, with whom he was not on the best of terms. Such were the rumors relating to the case which are afloat and we give them only as such.

The harbor commissioners have nearly completed the examination of the plans and specifications for the great sea-wall of San Francisco submitted by different engineers in competition for the prize of $1500 offered by the Commissioners. The plans number altogether about thirty, several engineers having sent in two or three different plans in the same package. The estimated cost of the sea wall varies in the different plans all the way from $4,000 000 to $11 000 000. One plan was based upon estimates of less than $3 000 000, but it was not deemed at all feasible. The length of the sea wall when completed will be 8,342 feet or about one and two thirds miles.

It is thought that no suitable plan can be adopted which will cost less than 3,000 000. This will be one of the most important public works ever constructed in this country, but the future commerce of San Francisco imperatively demands that it should be built and it is of the utmost importance that the best plan should be discovered and a right beginning made.

ASIATIC CHOLERA, ETC.—As cholera has made its appearance on the Atlantic border, and may extend to Oregon and the Pacific coast this season, a few remarks upon the nature and treatment of the deadly scourge would seem appropriate. From various standard authorities and personal observations our readers can form some idea of this mysterious malady. There are three diseases which have the name of cholera attached viz: Cholera morbus, Asiatic Cholera and Cholera Infantum. Cholera morbus, or sporadic cholera is preceded by diarrhea, headache, abdominal pains, etc. Sometimes it begins with vomiting and purging of bile, cramps and severe pain. This disease most always comes on at night, caused by improper food, such as cucumbers, unripe or over-ripe fruits, while the system is enfeebled by excessive heat. It may also occur from an excited state of the nervous system from any cause. It sometimes proves fatal, though generally after a few hours it disappears and leaves the patient tolerably well. The examination of the body after death throws no light upon the nature of the disease. It mostly attacks the young and inexperienced although it is not confined to any age or sex. Opiates and hot applications to relieve cramps, are mostly in use by physicians. Asiatic, or epidemic Cholera, has depopulated India for many centuries. It destroyed 30,000 lives in upper Hindostan in 1761, the great epidemic which traversed the globe, originated in 1817, in the Delta of the river Ganges, about 100 miles north of Calcutta. The first feeling is that of uneasiness, nausea, with diarrhea, and perhaps vomiting; in the second stage or true cholera, the strength is suddenly reduced, the muscles of the abdomen and limbs are cramped, the pulse is weak and the skin cold, the features, too, appear pale and ghostlike; the shrunken and cold skin indicate a collapse, the secretions are suppressed; the voice changes, the mucous membranes of the eyes, nose and mouth are dry, the patient gradually sinks, while the intellect is usually clear to the last; some die very suddenly in the act of getting up, speaking or drinking. If, at the end of twenty-four hours, or less, death does not close the scene, reaction begins; circulation moves freely, the skin gets warm and moist, thirst diminishes, cramps cease, and refreshing sleep gives immediate relief. The discharges from the body have been found by chemical test to contain the elements in which the blood is deficient. In this blood has the appearance of tar or molasses according to the intensity and duration of the collapse. In many cases it is so thick that it will not flow from an opened artery. The coloring of the skin disappears after death, and a slight degree of warmth is said to be added. The veins are generally filled with thick black blood. It is not yet determined what the nature of cholera is. Some think it is an inflammation of the digestive tube, and of the spinal and sympathetic nerves, paralysis of the organs of circulation and the intestines, a disease of the blood itself, from miasma, etc. The cause, whatever it may be, acts in most cases on the vessels of the mucous membrane causing them to part with the watery portions of the blood, which then becomes too thick for proper circulation. Mystery still surrounds the causes of cholera. Over and over again the air has been subjected to tests for its origin without success—no appreciable changes being found—and the primary cause is as difficult of solution as small-pox or yellow fever. But there are certain conditions which seem to favor its fatal effects, such as personal and public uncleanliness, bad food, misery and drunkenness. Fear, too, is believed to add very much to the deadly account. It was once thought to be contagious but that idea is pretty much exploded, as many physicians have gone so far as to inoculate themselves with the blood, bile, etc., of patients in every stage of the disease without any bad effects. History mentions some noble instances of physicians and clergymen attending the sick who have been deserted by father, mother, brother and sister, and friends who dared not approach the house of death. Its destruction, however, is at times fearful. From 1817 to 1823 it devastated Europe. In June 1832 it first appeared on the American Continent at Quebec, from thence suddenly spreading to Montreal and New York, Boston, New Orleans, Cincinnati and other large towns. We have no statistics of its mortality but we know it was appalling. In 1847 it re-visited this country but seemed less malignant than common. By late dispatches from the East it has already appeared in New York. It seems that hot and damp weather is the time of its great harvest, although it is a singular fact that it raged fearfully in mid-winter in St. Petersburg in 1834. The danger is less, the longer a person lives under an attack, as most deaths occur within twenty-four hours. The principal treatment consists in keeping up the natural heat of the body by stimulants, friction and opiates. Specifics abound in all parts of the world but the case should always be left to the judgment of the physician. The public authorities can always do much by regulating the sanitary condition of the city. Filthy streets, lanes, cesspools and houses should be guarded against, while the body should be protected with temperance and cleanliness in all things. Cholera Infantum attacks children and is similar in result to the two diseases already named. Want of space prevents any remarks upon this fatal disease. As no part of the world is exempt from the march of Asiatic Cholera, our citizens should be prepared for its stealthy approach.

E. W. TRACY IS DEAD.—Such was the answer given to us yesterday in our professional rounds in search of matters of public interest. Although we knew our late friend was in delicate health we were not prepared to hear of his death. He came to this coast at an early day and was for many years connected with the Express and Banking House of Adams & Co., of Sacramento. After the temporary failure of that firm he connected himself with the Pacific Express Co., in the same city. While he remained in that company it was noted for its energy, promptness and dispatch. Soon after he came to Oregon and established Tracy & Co's. Express which was at once a popular institution. Not long after he sold out the business to Wells, Fargo & Co., and became their business manager in this city. His popularity remained with him in this position and his integrity always sustained the encomiums of the business community. For several years his management gave the utmost satisfaction to the company and public generally. By one of those unfortunate disagreements between employer and employed, which it is not necessary for us to explain, he resigned his place and in a short time established the Assay Office of Tracy & Co. here. A bronchial or asthmatic affection now began to show itself which was greatly aggravated by the confinement and fumes of the laboratory. A few months ago he went to Panama to get the benefit of the sea air and returned in a much improved state of health. Going into the office again brought back his malady with renewed force and he was obliged to sell out entirely. A week or two ago he, with his family, went to Astoria in hopes that it might improve his shattered frame, but alas! his strength waned and on the evening of the 12th he expired, attended by his wife and dear little children. His remains were brought to this city on the John H. Couch, Saturday night, and the impressive funeral ceremonies were performed at Trinity church, yesterday, under the direction of the Masons, of which he was a member. He was aged 39 years. Ned Tracy, as he was familiarly called, possessed traits of which his friends were proud. He had faults, (and who has not,) but they were in no way base—lying chiefly in his independent spirit and sensitiveness of wrong, it being hard to forgive an injury done him without cause. Ned was large hearted, open-handed to his friends, energetic in business, public spirited, and always ready to relieve the poor and distressed. We condole with his bereaved family who were so deeply bound up in his love and affection, and whose familiar voice and footstep they never more shall hear.

CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK, J.—This Court, Hon. E. D. Shattuck, Judge, will open this morning at 9 o'clock, when we learn that the Mitchell murder case will come up for trial. This is the case in which the prisoner is arraigned for fatally stabbing a man named Williams in a house of ill-fame. The following cases are on the calendar:

Mitchell & Dolph vs. Stephen Coffin.
Harbaugh & Biltzel vs. James Mason.
A. P. McAfee vs. J. D. Tackleburg.
C. Silver, Administrator of the estate of B. Woodard, vs. Andrew Smith.
A. C. Gibbs et al, vs. Steamer U. S. Grant.
John Bruce vs. John West.
Harbaugh & Biltzel vs. Louis Schaffer.
Brelsford & Ewry vs. Heirs of D. H. Lownsdale.
R. Olsen vs. Heirs of D. H. Lownsdale.
Margaret Farley vs. George Farley.
W. P. Doland vs. D. W. Williams; contested election for County Treasurer. Dismissed.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Yesterday while four gentlemen were grouse hunting in the vicinity of Giles' Lake, about four miles from the city, a severe accident occurred to one of them. It seems that Mr. Edward Johns, assayer of Wells, Fargo & Co., was trailing the party and when but a few feet in advance, some one in the hurry to get a shot, prematurely fired his piece, the charge striking the back and upper part of the left arm of Mr. Johns, producing a severe wound. The gun was so close as to tear and burn the coat sleeve, a few inches to the right and the chances are that he would have been killed outright. He was brought to the city in a passing mill boat, taken to his rooms at Arrigoni's, had the wound dressed, and was quite comfortable at a late hour last night. He attaches no blame to the person who fired the shot.

MILITARY.—Maj-Gen. H. W. Halleck and staff, and Maj-Gen. Steele and staff, arrived in this city last night, and leave for Puget Sound, Tuesday, on a tour of official inspection. General Halleck, who has a continental reputation for thoroughness and accuracy in military matters, and Gen Steele, who has a large practical experience upon the field, are doing all in their power for this Department. Both these officers stand high in the estimation of the War Department, and the historians of the late conflict, and they well know their duty to the Government as well as to the general public safety, croakers to the contrary notwithstanding. Personal feelings are utterly ignored and lost sight of in their official acts. They will return here in about ten days.

THE BELL RINGERS AND THE HUTCHINSONS.—The proprietors of this excellent exhibition announce that they will continue their entertainments until further notice. Mr. Warwick will, during the evening, recite the beautiful poem of "Sheridan's ride to Winchester." The Bell Ringers will perform some new and thrilling pieces of music, while the charming Miss Clara will entertain the audience with choicest selections from her repertoire. As the price is now reduced to fifty cents, we shall expect to see the Fine Hall crowded during the stay of this rare entertainment.

LONG PROCESSION.—A long line of Masons citizens on foot and in carriages, followed the remains of the late E. W. Tracy from Trinity Church to the Cemetery, yesterday. The procession was preceded by the Mechanics' Band, which discoursed mournful music, as it passed along the streets. The dirge for the dead always saddens the heart, though it leaves a beneficial influence upon the hearer who would emulate the good deeds of the departed.

CHINAWOMAN IN A FIT.—About 10 o'clock yesterday, a moon-eyed female was noticed to whirl around on the sidewalk in front 67 First street, and fall in a fit. Immediately a crowd surrounded the pitiable object expecting to see a horrible death. The police soon arrived, dispersed the crowd, and removed the woman. It is thought to be a case of over-opium.

STRAWBERRIES AND CREAM.—An ice cream and strawberry festival by the ladies of the M. E. Church of this city, will be given at the Lincoln House to-morrow night commencing at 8 o'clock. These delicacies will be dispensed abundantly to the surrounding multitude by the fair sex.

STILL FALLING.—The Willamette is falling slowly, but surely, and the summer landing places of the river crafts, steamships and clippers will soon be in view. If business has been a little slack this season, the rivers have been high and prosperous.

ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE.—San Francisco has been shaken up by another earthquake. It is suggested that the recent influx of Oregonians to that city has had something to do with it. But we are inclined to think it owing to the sinful depravity of the town, which is so heavy that the "crust" cannot sustain it.

SAILED.—The telegraph announces that the steamship Orizaba, Capt. Metzger, left San Francisco for this port Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She may be looked for sometime to-morrow night.

ARRIVED.—The steamship Oriflamme, Capt. Connor, arrived in San Francisco yesterday morning, and the steam propeller Montana, Capt. Kelly, in the afternoon.

Letter from Idaho

MEADOW CREEK DISTRICT, IDAHO CO., I. T., }
June 19th, 1866. }

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The occasion may now be opportune for me to pen a short letter for your readers. Our winter is past and gone—a severe one it has been here in the mountains. The high waters of the streams now attest this fact. Placer mining has been resumed in the Florence basin, and is now being prosecuted with considerable vigor. There is consequently a lull in business upon the quartz ledges; though some is still going forward, and so soon as the water falls in the placers, business will be resumed here with ten-fold force and vigor.

Some new discoveries have been made since my last. What they will ultimately prove to be, we can none of us foretell. A vein of considerable extent, entitled the "Daniel Boon," has been discovered and some fifty claims located upon it. Several assays have been made of the ore, by different assayers. Some pronounce the ore of no value, while "Kellogg & Houston, of San Francisco, give a return of both silver and gold. The vein has a good casing, the ore is largely impregnated with sulphurets, and bears a great resemblance to that of the Lidelle & Harper, though not exactly like it.

Some new developments have been made upon the "Brother Jonathan" lead, and great faith is entertained by many that it will prove rich in silver. Another lead, entitled the "Nevada," has been found which seems to be a branch of a family of veins which are in close proximity. Of these are the "Red Lead," the "Missouri," the "Identical," and the "Nevada." They are all gold-bearing, and of vast extent. They range in width from 15 to 40 feet, and the gold seems to be diffused throughout the entire mass. So report the assays made of the ore. The results so far have shown from $35 to $50 per ton in gold. If these assays are a true test of the rock, (and they have been made both in San Francisco and Lewiston) they will ultimately prove among the best and most profitable, from the fact of the facility with which the ore can be extracted, and the vast quantity to be found in each of the veins.

The Lidelle & Harper vein has been traced for about 900 feet, and discloses all the characteristics near the surface which were found on the Discovery claim. Some twelve drifts are being run, intended to strike the lead at different depths, varying from 50 to 300 feet below the surface. A large number of other drifts will be commenced as soon as the placer mining in Florence will relieve the workmen now engaged there.

As every man must know, all this labor upon these silver leads is of no value, unless machinery is set in motion to reduce the ore and extract the metal therefrom. This is what we now frequently need. We have been flattered with hopes of mills here this season, and, in fact, our hopes fail us not now, though the season is rapidly advancing, and we as yet have no certain assurances of the machinery to reduce our ores. Most of the owners of the best quartz claims are men with but little ready money, and they must depend upon outside capital to assist them in making the improvements now necessary here to develop the wealth of these leads.

We think we have been a little duped in relation to the ton of ore sent from one of the claims last fall to be tested in Portland. In the first place the ore was a very long time in reaching Portland, having left here early in the month of November. We received what was reported a true return from the yield of the rock the last of April. None of us had any faith in the reported yield. We know not where the fault lay, but we all know the reported result to be incorrect, as that report gave less than $20 to the ton in silver and no gold. We have since had some of the tailings of the rock from the Portland mill assayed, and found them to contain $144 to the ton. Whether this was a design on the part of the mill owners or whether it was want of skill, we know not, but this we do know: It has damaged our prospects for so early a development of this lead as would have taken place had that mill never received the rock. The ore of this lead is rich in both silver and gold, as numerous tests have shown us, made by some of the best assayers on this coast, and as we have discovered among ourselves as miners with the simple means for testing rock which we had at our command. If the Portland mill for testing ores can do no better than they did with us with rock of established richness, the shop had better be closed or turned into a manufactory for making corn hoeing. It is an imposition upon any mining community for men to prefer to test ores when they have no skill to do the work or no disposition to furnish a true result to those who patronize them. I speak in plain language, for I am fully aware that this mining camp has been greatly imposed upon by that operation made by the ton of ore sent from here to Portland. There is no earthly reason why Portland should not do for us as well as San Francisco. In fact she ought to be our emporium for all business connected with our mining operations. But a few blunders of that description and the confidence of the mining portion of Northern Idaho, will be shaken if not destroyed, upsetting the good faith and skill of business men in Portland.

This ton of ore of which I speak, I saw and examined while in transit for Portland, and I venture to say that any man with ordinary skill in ores could have crushed that rock in a hand mortar and extracted not less than $150 in silver from the ore, and from one-fourth to one-third as much gold. I have tested and seen tested too much of this ore to be greatly mistaken in making this statement. About 1,000 pounds of this rock is on the way to San Francisco for testing, and these smart men you have in Portland, who ask us to send them ore for testing, may possibly learn a lesson from the result of the San Francisco testing.

I am aware that it is no the province of a news journal to assail any man's business, but when a whole mining camp has been imposed upon, in like manner, after taking the pains to transport a ton of rock over 600 miles upon the faith of the advertisement of men to that effect, and make a true return of the value thereof, upon which return, if approximated correct, may depend the plan of operations for the outlay of millions of dollars of capital. A newspaper has the right and it becomes its duty to speak plainly and as truthfully as the facts are developed to its character. If there is any apology for this imposition, there are many of us here who would be glad to know what it is, and if we answer wrongfully we will be most happy to make amends.

Have you not among the monied men of Portland a man who will come up and see our quartz leads, and of such as will warrant an investment of capital for a merchant mill, who will be ready to make the investment and thus aid us in developing the wealth of these leads? If you have, send him along up here early. We will use him well and furnish him camp fare while here, and give him a good opportunity to judge whether we misjudge or misquote the real wealth of the quartz here.

Yours, LELAND.

INDIAN TROUBLES IN HUMBOLDT.—A dispatch was received here last evening by Lieutenant Governor Crosman from Judge Dunne, of Humboldt county, to the effect that the Indians had re-commenced hostilities in Surprise Valley, and that they were murdering and robbing at a fearful rate; and military aid was asked for. We understand that the military force which has been stationed near the scene of hostilities has gone with Halleck and McDowell as an escort, and that the settlers are almost entirely unprotected.—Carson Appeal, July 7th.

RHETT.—In the Sacramento Union of the 9th inst., we find the following item which was not telegraphed here:

CHICAGO, July 7. The Rhett assassinated a few days since at Charleston (S. C.) was not ex-Senator R. B. Rhett, but his younger brother, a well known cotton factor of Charleston.

The Carson Appeal says that, during a heavy thunder-storm, on the morning of the 5th inst., the lightning melted a considerable length of the telegraph wire between Carson and Empire.

SUPERB CARD PICTURES.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, 80 First Street, have some of the finest specimens of ALBUM CARD PICTURES we have ever seen. We doubt if there is a Gallery on the coast that can show any equal to what we saw executed here the past week. All of their pictures are the theme and admiration of the public at large. Go and see for yourself.

All Persons should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

[From the S F Flag July 5]

To the Author of the Rebel Toast.

The Confederate Flag—fold it up gently, it is holy

Ay, fold it gently! for each cursed thread
Was plucked from the flesh of the murdered dead,
Was spun on the wheels of torture racks,
From quivering fibres of bleeding backs
Was [illegible] when the faltering slave man fell
And [illegible] by the hands of hell
Was [illegible] on the [illegible] of the scathing brand,
Burned deep in the brow—"trade mark" of the land
Beam [illegible] in the whipping post [illegible] by the knave
Drawn through the [illegible] harness, the [illegible] of the brave,
[illegible] of the poison-swamps nigh,
[illegible] as swift as they fly
The [illegible], but [illegible] by [illegible] feet trod,
[illegible] power and [illegible] was Slavery's god
From [illegible] this rag had its birth,
The hot bed of sin the plague-spot of earth,
[illegible] devils [illegible] in demon may you toast
The chivalric South, her triumphs to boast
Yes, lay it away—and no matter where,
The filth of the South polluting the air,
Insulting the sky—oh bury it deep
[illegible] forever to sleep
Dyed black in the deeds of centuries past,
The [illegible] stars no longer shall last,
Like ghosts of the night they fade at the dawn
Of Liberty's sun, of Freedom's bright morn
Sightless and rayless—the cross-bones and skull,
Fill but to cover Confederate hulls;
Stripped of all glory, dry chaff in the wind,
Drift they to Hades destruction to find
Shroud of all traitors, oh chant ye the lay,
Satan's own badge, for the great coming day—
Emblem of blight with a withering breath,
Upheld by the arms of grim reaper Death—
Where Apollyon holds his orgies for aye,
Oh! "fold it gently"—there, "lay it away."

Georgia After the War.

WHAT IS THOUGHT OF GENERAL SHERMAN.

A correspondent of the Chicago (Ill.) Republican, writing from Atlanta, Ga., gives an interesting account of affairs and opinions in that region

ATLANTA DESCRIBED

After all that has been said about the destruction of Atlanta, one is rather surprised to find so much town, the common impression being that it was entirely destroyed.

There are now more "merchants," and perhaps more goods, in Atlanta than ever before, and the rent for a very ordinary store room, say twenty feet wide by fifty in depth, is from $3,000 to $4,000 per year. The rents for dwellings are as enormous as for stores. A small wooden dwelling of five or six rooms, such as would rent in Chicago for $250 or $300 per year, rents in Atlanta for from $70 to $80 per month; while all of the best residences are occupied as boarding houses, at rentals of from $2,000 to $5,000 per year.

In the way of hotels there is nothing that deserves that name, but, in such houses as lay claim to that dignity, one gets the privilege of lying awake on a cot, in a room with four others, unknown and filling his stomach with saffron colored biscuits, for the sum of $4 per day.

Money is loaned readily at 5 and 10 per cent per month, and I even heard of some instances of loans made at 3 per cent per week.

The accession which the place has received to its population since the war is almost entirely southern. Among all the traders there are probably not over a dozen men from the north of the Ohio. Under the new order of things, there is a distaste for agriculture on the part of southern men, and, though the prospective profit of this year's cotton crop has induced many who, six months ago, laughed at the idea of free negro labor, to turn their attention to planting, there is a tendency throughout the South, and particularly among the young men, to desert agricultural pursuits and congregate in the towns.

Though Atlanta is the newest town in the South, and, for that reason, has attracted more attention than it otherwise would have done, and where, with its newly gathered population, one might naturally expect to find that more cosmopolitan usages had crept in, its population and their modes of doing things are not less markedly southern than other neighboring towns, which is readily perceived in the cumbrous style of building and living. Three-fourths of the dwelling houses that are now being built, are exact copies of the old ones that were burned, as the old ones were, in their turn, copies of the same class of buildings fifty years ago. There are whole neighborhoods of new little houses, each one of which seems to be made up of huge outside chimneys and a portico; and, though brick are scarce and high, you can see in every direction some builder constructing his two chimney-towers, to be connected by a strip of roof and weather boarding.

SPECULATION IN LAND.

Lands in this vicinity are held at high prices, in anticipation of a large immigration from the North, which was looked for with great confidence all through the winter, but which does not seem likely to meet the expectations of southern landholders.

"MR. SHERMAN."

One cannot help but be amused at the half-humorous way in which, though the havoc of war is visible on every side, people refer their individual losses, and the disjointed state of things generally, to Mr. Sherman, as they call him. One man has a piece of town property to sell, and another asks:

"What improvements?"

"None but the improvements made by Mr. Sherman."

Or if it is a plantation he wants to sell:

"Gin-house, did you say?"

"No; there was, but Mr. Sherman, you know—."

"Dwelling?"

"No; Mr. Sherman—."

"Is there a bridge over the creek?"

"No, Mr. Sherman—."

"Is there a grist mill near your place?"

"No, Mr. Sherman—."

Or you walk the street with some new acquaintance, and remark the huge shot holes in so many houses;

"Yes, Mr. Sherman ——."

Acquaintances mounted on sorry horses meet, try to laugh at eachother's Rosinantes."

"Well, you know Mr. Sherman ——."

The popular idea of Sherman is of a being in whom are combined the fantastic and the terrible; a man gith the courage of Hector, the activity of a harlequin, the sleeplessness of a weasel, the persistence and power of a steam engine and the fury of the "dread chimera." They believe that he lives on brandy, and rages, and swears, and gives orders day and night. "Sleep!" said a man at whose house the General made his headquarters, "I tell you I don't believe the man ever sleeps." To them General Sherman is like "Folker, the Fiddler," told about in the "Niebelungen Leid," the drawing of whose mighty fiddlesticks set everything about him to dancing in fire and blood. "Grant," they say, "is a regular old pounder and gentleman; but Sherman—. Oh, Sherman is just well, he's just Sherman!"

If their idea of Sherman is distorted and unjust, their idea of other men and manners generally in the North are far more so, and keep many a southern man who might otherwise be desirable neighbor in a fever of hate.

DISTORTED IDEAS.

In the cars between Atlanta and Montgomery I got into conversation with a young man who owned a plantation near the latter city. Among other things, he mentioned that corn was selling at two dollars per bushel in Montgomery, and that many planters were unable to buy corn to feed their stock. I asked him what could be the cause of such a high price when it was selling for less than half that price in New Orleans, and transportation from there by the river was reliable.

"I reckon," said he, "it's the Yankee gov*ernment*, (accenting the last syllable, as is the custom with many such words in the South.) Everybody says they want to speckilate off of us; and I guess they own all the corn, and are going to make us pay a big price for it."

If I had not already met with many similar instances of ignorance and prejudice, I might have suspected that his assertion was made out of sheer waggery, but he believed it, and, besides, his waggery would have had no point, for he did not suspect me, from my appearance, for a Northern man.

On another occasion, in the cars, two respectable looking men, with gray beards, in an adjoining seat, were talking about the "flood of northerners that was expected."

"Don't you notice," said one, "that they all have black beards? Now, when I studied medicine and used to go North, they all had these yellow beards, you know. I tell you they are a light bearded race, but they all dye 'em black, I tell you, (pounding his knee with his fist,) the last one of 'em dyes his beard black."

Such instances as these might be ludicrous, if they were not painful evidences of the grossest ignorance and prejudice, ignorance, not of a few pioneers and backwoodsmen, to be tided over by the flood of immigration, but the ignorance of a people who possess the country and make its customs, and exercise an influence that, as long as it predominates, will prevent the South, even with its many advantages, from becoming cosmopolitan and populous like the West.

It is only justice to a number of friends acquired during my few months in Georgia (every rebel soldier, too) to say that whoever goes South with a civil tongue in his head, will find, as I did, some men who blush at these jaundiced views and this obstinate hate of the North, and who endeavor by their cordiality and hospitality to neutralize to some extent the influence of the class just mentioned. But then, as I said in a former letter, the fools are much the most aggressive.

An Easy Problem.

Mr. Ballard introduced into the Senate recently a resolution requesting our representatives in Congress to labor for such amendments to the Constitution of the United States "as will make a white man in Connecticut equal in political power to a white man in South Carolina."

This quaint method of stating the question in the form of an argument seems to have quite bewildered the Democratic Senators, who think South Carolina ought to retain all the superior political rights which she won by bullying the convention which framed our national charter. Mr. Bond, of this city, was evidently very much irritated that the matter should be introduced at all, while Senator Wm. H. Bishop even went so far as to offer an amendment in view of an increase of the rights and privileges of South Carolina freedmen. It is with the most unfeigned pleasure that we welcome the gentleman from Bridgeport as a champion of the blacks of the Palmetto State. He has made a poor stick of it as one of the grinders in the mill of pro slavery barbarism, but this advocacy of the rights of the helots of our land, is a sphere in which he is calculated to shine. We hope he will persevere until mockery becomes sincerity, and affection changes into a healthy and humane habit of thought.

Why Democrats of Connecticut should oppose such legislation as will make a Connecticut voter equal to a South Carolina voter, we are unable to divine. It is easy to see that they might have done so ten years ago, when it was generally understood (at least among them), that "one southerner was equal to three northerners," but this mathematical formula has been fought out on a hundred battle fields, and found to be quite erroneous. It has been demonstrated that one southerner is only equal to one northerner—rather less than more. Then, why should we have superior rights?

Why should South Carolina, with 45,000, have six representatives in Congress, while Connecticut, with 99 000, has only four?

Why should Mississippi, with 70,000 voters have five representatives, when Maine with 110,000, has only just the same number?

Why should Alabama, with her 55,000 voters, have seven representatives, when Michigan, with 150,000 voters, has only six?

Why should North Carolina, with 96,000 voters have eight representatives now, while Iowa, with 140,000 voters, is entitled to but six?

This is according to that absurd provision of the constitution, giving a three fifths representation to slaves; to obtain which, South Carolina and Georgia threatened to secede from the convention and break up the confederacy in 1787, if it should not be conceded. It was a conciliation to barbarism in the days of our country's infancy and peril, and the doughfaces gladly retained it when the Black Power bestrode the continent like a colossus, and claimed everything for its own aggrandisement.

But why shall the odious discrimination still be kept a part of the fundamental law, when slavery is abolished, the pride of feudalism broken, the bubble of "chivalry" pricked beyond repair? How long is this political servility to disgrace a regenerated nation? Can it be possible that the baffled and crest-fallen Toombs can really call the roll of his slaves from Bunker Hill?—and white slaves at that?

The spirit of Mr. Ballard's resolution is excellent; but we should very much prefer to see it passed in an unambiguous form, stating clearly and simply the difference that exists, and calling for a remedy. If debate arises on it, we hope to hear Mr. Bishop or Mr. Bond give a good reason why a South Carolinian should have superior political rights to a citizen of Connecticut. If they are still so far demoralized as to look upon a white man here as quite inferior to a white man there—in fact, as being a more vulgar fraction—they have a right to make the mortifying confession for themselves, but if not, we would remind them, for the people of New England.—New Haven Palladium.

Shocking Calamity in Amador County, Cal.

A correspondent of the Sacramento Union gives the following particulars of a sad affair which occurred in Amador county, California, on the 4th of July:

On the night of July 4th, at about 11 o'clock, a fire occurred at Upper Hill, in Amador county, destroying a large two-story boarding house, in which four men were sleeping and only one of whom escaped uninjured. It appers the house was own and occupied by Charles Sexton, who kept a number of men boarding with him, but himself, family and boarders were absent attending a celebration, except the four men alluded to, and a Chinese cook. At about ten o'clock at night the man left in charge took a light and went about the house to see that all was right, and found nothing out of order except some Chinamen talking in the kitchen, a not very unusual circumstance. He retired to bed, but had not been there long before he noticed that the building was all on fire. Giving the alarm he rushed for the window, which was the only way of egress, the flames had spread so rapidly, when he ran against another man who was trying to feel his way out. He finally found the window and jumped to the ground uninjured; but a man named John Banahan, and one named Robert Falkner were unable to succeed in escaping and were burned with the building. They were almost entirely consumed, nothing remaining but a part of the heads and bodies and about six inches of the thigh bones. A man by the name of John Fitzgerald succeeded in finding a window, but in attempting to jump out caught on some wires that fastened the stovepipe to a tree near by, and was unable to extricate himself until he was so terribly burned that his finger and toe nails came off. His back was so crisped that the skin peeled off, and the soles of his feet were entirely gone; still he ran some rods over the gravel on the raw flesh. Besides, his head was badly burned, yet at this writing he is alive, though it is impossible that he should survive long. [He subsequently died.] It is supposed that one of the men was partially suffocated in bed before being burned to death, as he was found near where the bed stood. The remains of the other were found some distance from his bed, showing that he had attempted to escape. The sleeping apartment was in the second story, the stairs being burnt and a dense body of smoke in the upper part, rendered it impossible to find the way out. When Fitzgerald jumped out, his leg struck one of the wires, about half way between his knee and hip, cutting the flesh, tendons and all, completely to the bone. Yet notwithstanding that and his other horrible injuries, he endures the excruciating pain with the utmost fortitude, and still thinks he will live.

SECRETARY SEWARD.—The Pittsburg Gazette revives the following points in the history of Secretary Seward:

"Before the Inauguration of Mr. Lincoln in 1861, Mr. Seward made a speech in New York in which he lavished extravagant laudation upon the noble South Carolinians who were then throwing up assaulting works against Major Anderson, in Fort Sumter. He assumed to be prophetic, and predicted that "the country would be happy" in ninety days. Scarcely was he seated in the Department of State before he put Mr. James E. Harvey in communication with the rebels, and apprised them of the military and naval plans against Charleston. As soon as the war fully opened, he addressed circular letters to all the Representatives of the Government abroad, instructing them to give assurances to the Cabinets to which they were accredited that whatever results might follow from the progress of the war, not a slave would be emancipated. He went so far as to charge Mr. Adams to assure the British government that the war would be prosecuted for territorial reclamations solely. It was this that drew from Earl Russell the tart reproach that stung American sensitiveness to the quick, that the war was waged on one side for independence, and on the other for dominion. Immediately after the drawn conflict at Antietam he wrote once more to Mr. Adams, this time concerning the culpable efforts of disunionists, north and south, to prevent the re-establishment of peace. This was the first insinuation of that reproach of disloyalty against the men who were supporting the government in the prosecution of the war, which has been a leading staple in the recent speeches of President Johnson. In this category President Lincoln stood foremost. This was so offensive to the Senate that a Committee of that body was appointed to wait on the President, and ask Mr. Seward's removal. Mr. Seward resigned, but through the interposition of Mr. Chase, the matter was fixed up, and Mr. Seward retained his portfolio. When the war ended, nay, before it had closed, he extended the insulting conception to which we have referred still farther, and claimed that the Southern people had forfeited no political rights by rebellion, and, consequently, should be admitted, as soon as they laid down their arms, to an equal participation with men of unshaken loyalty in the direction and control of the government.

A HARD HIT.—A Hibernian friend related to us an accident that occurred on the Fourth, which is well worth repeating. A neighbor of his, an Englishman, was hard at work in his yard threshing out his peas, of the variety known as the "Champion of England." Our friend, who is a through American in sentiment, and therefore opposed to such infringement on the sanctity of the day, stopped and asked him what he was doing. "Threshing the 'Champion of England,'" replied John Bull, looking up from his work. "That's just what George Washington was doing ninety years ago to day," coolly remarked our friend as he walked away.—Stockton Independent.

Pope Pius IX., who completed his seventy fifth birth day, May 13, and has been 22 years a Pope, says he is going to die in 1868.

Spurgeon is about to appear as a rival of Joe Miller. A London house announces The Jokes and Stories of Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, now first collected and arranged.

M. Thiers is now 69 years old. He first came to Paris from Provence in 1820, tried to be a lawyer, failed, turned historian, and his History of the Consulate Empire brought him 500,000f.

In a speech which he recently delivered at Moreenopolis, Minnesota, General T. W. Sherman said: "I have studied politicians, and have learned by imitating them to talk a few minutes without saying anything at all." [Great laughter and cheers.]

A Fortress Monroe correspondent of a N. Y. city paper says: Jeff. Davis' health is now good, and his rambles about the Fort are made without any evident signs of fatigue.

Mrs. Davis has not been out of the Fort since Friday last, when she visited Norfolk in the morning, returning on the evening boat. The storekeepers of that city peremptorily refuse to receive any price for the goods she may select, deeming it sufficient honor to be able to assist her or her husband in any manner. Inside of the Fort she does not lack society when Jeff is not present. From a few of the officers she is the recipient of many marked courtesies and pleasant little bonmots.

Sir Morton Peto's new book on America, thus sums up with regard to some of the Confederate Generals: "Sherman's antagonists are in the express and railroad business. The once dreaded Beauregard will sell you a ticket from New Orleans to Jackson, and if you want to send a couple of hams to a friend in Richmond, Joe Johnston, once commander of great armies, will carry them. The man whose works Grant moved upon at Donelson, edits an indifferent newspaper in New Orleans, while the commander of the rebel cavalry at Corinth is his local reporter. Marshall practices law in New Orleans, Forrest is running a saw-mill, Dick Taylor is having a good time in New York, Roger A. Pryor is a daily practitioner in the courts."

IMMIGRATION TO THE UNITED STATES.—Emigration from Europe to the United States was never perhaps so great as at the present time. Nearly every steamer which arrives at our Atlantic ports, comes loaded with immigrants. In a single week there was landed at New York 10,500 persons. The Vice Consul at Hamburg recently announced officially that 150,000 emigrants had engaged passage at that single port for the United States. And in England the press is full of comments to the effect that the Irish people were never more eager to emigrate to this country than at the present time. At Cork an average of 1,500 people embark weekly, and from other Irish ports the rush to the United States is proportionately great. It is scarcely possible to over estimate the benefits to be derived from this extraordinary influx of population. Middleaged persons—young men and women—active producers, every one of whom adds wealth to the country, are coming in numbers only limited by the means of conveyance.

DISTURBANCE AMONG THE INDIANS.—The St. Joseph (Mo.) Union has been informed that the Indians in the vicinity of Ash Hollow have been having considerable difficulty among themselves. Recently, at a grand pow wow, three hundred young braves refused to yield to the older members of the tribe, who favored going to Fort Laramie to the great peace treaty, and painted for the war-path, whereupon the wise heads surrounded the youngsters, killed their horses, burnt their tents, and killed one or two of their ringleaders. It was rumored that the Cheyennes and Arapahoes had refused to have anything to do with the treaty, and it is feared that they may prove troublesome.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS
READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task.
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate from day to day
Lend generous aid to Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time
The system's tone and strength renew,
And cheer the drooping spirits, too
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
"The Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply
Is HEALTH'S SAFEGUARD [illegible]—TRY IT.

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever taint the heavy air
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground
If solitary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries
Meet then a grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for in it
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind
Ague that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Head disorders that come to be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings a Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone, but cure

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea-sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households lone, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet, marshy ground,
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle aged, and old;
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes, from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to LEFFEL & MYERS,
Oregon Iron Works,

THAT OLD GREENBACK CASE!

of Legal Tender Notes
at Par (and have been since Dec 17,
1862, for the rent of
my Handsome Brick
Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that
JACOB MAYER
leased the building of me Feb. 17, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the terms were Cash. Since the date above stated, I have received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the CITY OF PARIS STORE!
making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantages of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings
as the one referred to above.
